How Have Living Situations Changed?

Housing Update

- 132 individuals transitioned to integrated, independent housing in FY 18 using Housing Choice Vouchers and State Rental Assistance Program (SRAP):
 - 64 have DD waiver services (47%)
 - 68 are on the DD waiver waitlist (53%); using community resources and natural supports to help them obtain and maintain housing
- Expanding SRAP
- Expansion of “Flexible Funding”

Common Elements: Waivers and Managed Care

- Provider Development
- Holistic approach to health outcomes
- Intended to decrease long-term, institutional care
- Intended to decrease use of higher cost settings (e.g., congregate settings, Emergency Departments)

“Managed care models don’t necessarily offer cost savings from reduced use of institutions because there is relatively low utilization of facility-based interventions and there is a waiting list of people looking for service. The budget management issue, whether in managed care or not, is really about providing a system that allows people with DD to live with families and friends rather than 24-hour staffed group homes.”

~ Nancy Thaler, past Director of NASDDDS and present Deputy Secretary for the Office of Developmental Programs in PA

Jump-Start

Jump-Start is designed...

- for people seeking more integrated DD waiver service options
- who are supported by new or expanding service providers
- to build capacity and increase choice in identified service gaps in all regions

Next Steps: Supports Packages

- A mix of residential and day services equating to an overall dollar amount range based on an individual's living situation and level of needed supports

- Types of living situations:

Residential - Adults	Living with Family - Children
Residential - Children	Living Independently - Adults
Living with Family -Adults	Building Independence

- Virginia's approach: soft touch management tool for case managers to have critical conversations
